

Contents

Original Articles

- 379 Effects of high-frequency emphasis and compression time constants on speech intelligibility in noise
Thijs van Toor and Hans Verschuure
- 395 Horizontal localization and speech intelligibility with bilateral and unilateral hearing aid amplification
S. Kobler and U. Rosenhall
- 401 Adaptive noise suppression for a dual microphone hearing aid
Jan Wouters, Jeff Vanden Berghe, and Jean-Baptiste Maj
- 408 Is the real-ear to coupler difference independent of the measurement earphone?
Kevin J. Munro and Vanessa A. Salisbury
- 414 The effects of phonemic compression and anti-upward-spread-of-masking (anti-USOM) on the perception of articulatory features in hearing-impaired listeners
André Goedegebure, Marieke Goedegebure-Hulshof, Hans Verschuure and Wouter A. Dreschler
- 429 Evaluation of cochlear implant benefit with auditory cortical evoked potentials
Andy J. Beynon, Ad F. M. Snik and Paul van den Broek