THE CONFERENCE

The goal of the conference is to promote both theoretical and applied research in pragmatics. Three parallel sessions will be held according to the following topics:

Pragmatics theories: meaning, role of context, semantics-pragmatics interface, explicature, implicature, speech act theory, etc.

Intercultural aspects of pragmatics: research involving more than one language and culture or varieties of one language, lingua franca, intercultural misunderstandings, effect of dual language and multilingual systems on the development and use of pragmatic skills

Applications: usage and corpus-based approaches, teachability and learnability of pragmatic skills, pragmatic variations within one language and across languages, developmental pragmatics, etc.

A volume of selected papers will be published in the Mouton Series in Pragmatics, and a second volume to be arranged with another publisher.

CALL FOR PAPERS

Abstracts are invited for papers on any topic relevant to the fields of intercultural communication and pragmatics mentioned above.
